Oklahoma Land Access Program

Administered by the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation, the Oklahoma Land Access Program (OLAP) is a public access program aimed at increasing hunting, fishing, and wildlife viewing opportunities on private lands. Participating landowners receive annual payments which vary from $2.00 to $15.00 per acre, according to enrolled acres, habitat quality, location, activities allowed, and multiple year leases.

Almost anyone who owns or leases land can qualify, and ideal properties include CRP-enrolled grassland, native rangeland, weedy crop stubble, forests, riparian corridors, wetland areas, and wildlife-friendly field buffers. Property boundaries are posted with signs, and parking areas have informational signs indicating access dates and allowed activities.

“Conservation will ultimately boil down to rewarding the private landowner who conserves the public interest” – Aldo Leopold

Landowner Benefits

- Landowner limited liability statutes
- Standing Grain Bonus with Quail Forever
- Walk-in access only, no vehicular access
- Landowner retains right to deny access with cause
- Increased rates for lands enrolled in habitat improvement programs, such as CRP, EQIP, ACEP, WHIP, WRP, etc.
- Program rules that protect the landowner’s best interests
- Access types that are customizable and flexible, e.g. September only, Annual and Seasonal fishing.
- Signing bonus for multi-year contracts and annual payments
- All enrolled lands will be published in the OLAP Map Directory which contains printable maps, digital maps, and a mobile app
- Being a part of Oklahoma’s conservation heritage

How the OLAP Works

- Enrolled landowners allowing public access receive financial compensation.
- Access is walk-in only, and hunting areas are typically shotgun/archery only.
- OLAP staff posts boundary signs and provides maps to sportspersons.
- Emphasis on close to metropolitan areas and other areas lacking public access opportunities.
- Bonuses for lands enrolled in habitat improvement programs, such as CRP, EQIP, ACEP, WHIP, WRP, etc.

How to Enroll Land

- Interested landowners can fill out an online application (wildlifedepartment.com/OLAP)
  Or submit the paper application on the back of this brochure
- Landowners can also contact OLAP staff or regional biologists:
